The Tunes of the Egyptian Pharaohs

E-G-Y-P-T
(Sing to the tune of “B-I-N-G-O”)

This is the country where the Nile flows
E-G-Y-P-T
E-G-Y-P-T
E-G-Y-P-T
and Egypt is its name-o

This is the country where pyramids were built
E-G-Y-P-T
E-G-Y-P-T
E-G-Y-P-T
and Egypt is its name-o

There is a country where King Tut’s tomb was found
E-G-Y-P-T
E-G-Y-P-T
E-G-Y-P-T
and Egypt is its name-o

The Nile River
(Sing to the tune of “This Old Man”)

The Nile River, it is long.
It flows almost a 1,000 miles.
Knick-Knack-Paddy-Whack
Give the King a throne,
The Nile River calls Egypt home.

The Nile River, it flows north.
It flows the opposite of most.
Knick-Knack-Paddy-Whack
Give the King a throne,
The Nile River calls Egypt home.

The Nile River, it overflows.
It overflows once a year everyone knows.
Knick-Knack-Paddy-Whack
Give the King a throne,
The Nile River calls Egypt home.

Five Days in Egypt
(Sing to the tune of “Twelve Days of Christmas”)

On the first day in Egypt, oh what did I see?
The longest river Nile

On the second day in Egypt, oh what did I see?
Two walking Pharaohs
And the longest river Nile

On the third day in Egypt, oh what did I see?
Three great sphinxes
Two walking Pharaohs
And the longest river Nile

On the fourth day in Egypt, oh what did I see?
Four Gods and Goddesses
Three great sphinxes
Two walking Pharaohs
And the longest river Nile

On the fifth day in Egypt, oh what did I see?
Five golden Pyramids
Four Gods and Goddesses
Three great sphinxes
Two walking Pharaohs
And the longest river Nile

Now see what songs YOU can create!
Below are some tunes you’re sure to know!

“Take Me Out to the Ball Game”
“Farmer in the Dell”
“London Bridge”

“Happy Birthday”
“Hokey Pokey”
“Humpty Dumpty”

“Jingle Bells”
“Yankee Doodle”
“Three Blind Mice”